Former Coshocton Family Has $20,000 Loss By Fire

AUDITOR—Coshocton, O

Residence and General Store of Fra[illegible] ned to Ashes at Curranville, Kansas, While Son Was On Way to Coshocton.

The residence and general store of Frank Orr, formerly of Bedford township, Coshocton-co, and the office and drug-store of his son, Dr. W. E. Orr were totally destroyed by fire at Curranville, Kansas. The total loss is estimated at $20,000. The insurance on all their property amounted to $9,000. Frank Orr is a brother of J. J. Orr, of Jackson township, who received word of the unfortunate occurance by letter. In addition to the $20,000 lose of the Orr family, the village post-office adjoining them was destroyed.

The fire occured about midnight. Dr. Orr was on his way to Coshocton county and his uncle was waiting to meet him. Dr. Orr received a telegram at Toledo notifying of the disaster and hastened back home where he found everything in ruins. It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin. Curranville is a town of 800 population about ten miles from Pittsburg Kansas.

Coshocton Man Believes Roosevelt Will Control The Destinies Of Africa

"Theodore Roosevelt did not go to Africa merely to hunt lions and elephants nor to rest himself after his strenuous political life in America but to eventually controll the destinies of the Dark Continent and become the head of a powerful government there."

This is the startling theory advanced by Dr. R. K. Merriam, who has been a close student of Roosevelt's career. He does not pretend to know all of the ex-presidents secret plans but he feels sure that Teddy is not over there merely for pleasure. He believes it possible that Roosevelt may eventually establish a haven there which will make it attractive for all members of the Ethiopian race to return to that country and live as a united people.

Proposes Taft As Strike Arbitrator

Bridgeport, O., Dec. 8.—It is now generally believed that before the week is out the strike at the Aetna Standard plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, which has caused so far the serious injury of half a dozen men, the calling out of 1,500 state soldiers and an estimated loss to all parties concerned of over $100,000, will be submitted to arbitration and the former employes of the company, who are all members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Sheet and Tin Plate Workers, will return to their old jobs under conditions suitable to all concerned.

Officials of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company conferred with the home officers in Pittsburg, discussing three propositions to end the strike.

The first was: The dismantling of the tin mills here and the transferring of the orders to other plants of the company.

The second was: The importation of strikebreakers in great numbers to operate the mills.

The third was: A proposition submitted by Joseph Bishop of the Ohio state board of arbitration calling for the appointment of either President Taft or Governor Harmon as a committee of one before which the strikers will place their grievances and stand by the decision of the person chosen.

What was decided at the meeting of the officials in Pittsburg was not made public.

Ask Sheriff's Removal.

Bridgeport, O., Dec. 8.—Strikers are securing signatures to a petition asking Governor Harmon to remove Sheriff Amrine from his position in Belmont county. The request contains virulent charges. Bridgeport citizens are preparing to send a delegation to the governor making a full report on situation and elements involved, with the request that troops be maintained at the mills until a peaceful settlement is assured.

Only One Regiment Remains.

Columbus, O., Dec. 8.—Adjutant General Weybrecht at Bridgeport wired his office here that he had ordered home the Seventh regiment, Ohio National Guard, which with the Eighth and Fourth was called out Saturday because of the strike riots. It was decided Monday to send home the Eighth, and the last order leaves only the Fourth regiment and a few separate detachments on duty. Adjutant General Weybrecht will return to Columbus today.

DIED WHILE SITTING BEFORE KITCHEN FIRE

Sitting in front of the kitchen fire Mrs. Harriett R. Howe, 82, was found dead by her daughter Miss Ida Howe Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock, a few minutes after the two had been conversing. Death was probably due to heart trouble and infirmaties of old age.

Mrs. Howe arose Wednesday morning in apparantly good health and after breakfast took her accustomed seat before the kitchen fire, while her daughter Miss Ida Howe did the kitchen work. When the daughter had finished the work in the kitchen she went into the next room. Presently Miss Howe addressed a question to her mother and could get no reply; after asking her the second time and becoming frightened she went into the kitchen and found her mother still sitting in the chair with a peaceful smile on her face, dead. Dr. Lower was summoned and said that death had been due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Howe was born in Clinton, N. Y., in 1827 and moved to Coshocton in 1876. In 1888 her husband George H. Howe died and since then she has made her home with her son George. B. Howe who now lives on East Walnut-st.

The funeral services will be held from the house Friday after noon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made at Oak Ridge cemetery.

SON HAS $2,000 LEGACY DUE HIM

What It Costs To Be Skeptical

It costs $1,000 sometimes for a skeptical person to learn that a bank is a safer depository for many than a hand-bag That is what it cost a lady recently to learn this bitter lesson. An enterprising burglar who was aware of her foolish distrust of banks watched his opportunity and the money was gone. The savings of years were lost merely because of the foolish fear that the bank would break Think of the millions and millions of dollars in banks every day and night and the loss by the breaking of a bank is not one dollar in a million

Don't try to be your own banker You may regret it.

Democrats Sparing In Their Praise of Document

KELIHER MAKES COMPARISON

Republican Leaders Refer to It as "Sane," "Sensible" and "Conservative"—Reference to Monroe Doctrine as Obsolete Not Greeted With Much Enthusiasm—Representative Tawney Twitted by Colleague Over Numerous Tilts With Roosevelt.

Washington. Dec. 8.—Comment on President Taft's message was as varied as the political views of the members of the house and senate. It found favor in some quarters because it was brief and took only an hour and fifteen minutes in the reading. Republican leaders in both senate and house spoke of it as "sane" and "sensible" and "conservative." while the Democrats called it "inconsistent," "mushy" and "meaningless." and regretted the relegation of the Monroe doctrine to the "obsolete class"

Representative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the house appropriations committee, was especially insistent that the message was extremely 'sensible and good." A colleague who was standing near by at the time explained Mr. Tawney's activity in the use of these expressions by suggesting that he had been belted over the head so often and hard by President Roosevelt in special messages that any executive document which omitted the mention of his name looked good to him

W Sims of Tennessee, the anti-automobilist, waxed epigrammatic with the remark that the message was "pacific but not specific" He declined to spoil this gem by elaborating it.

The Republican leaders contented themselves with the one word indorsements previously mentioned, although one of them, who sincerely hoped his name would be kept a profound secret, ventured the thought that maybe Mr. Taft had been "pressed for time while preparing the document to which congress listened"

Best Since McKinley.

Speaker Cannon, Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee and John Dalzell of Pennsylvania contented themselves with a "good" or a 'just what might be expected of a sensible man like Mr. Taft," while the smaller fry with pending patronage wanted to go into details in explaining that this was the grandest message since McKinley.

Representative Keliher of Massachusetts, a Boston Democrat with a sense of humor, expressed the prevailing idea very well when he said there was "all the difference between picking up one of Roosevelt's messages and this first one from President Taft that there was between fondling a hot stove lid and a refrigerated sha[illegible]"

BONILLA TAKES A HAND IN REVOLT

Plans to Re-establish Himself In Honduras.

SITUATION IS COMPLICATED

State Department Receives Disquieting Rumors From Central America. If Dispatches Announcing Zelaya's Victory Over Insurgent Forces Prove Correct Uncle Sam Will Be Forced to Modify Program For Punishment of Slayers of Americans.

Washington. Dec. 8.—At the state department the first sign that the present disorder in Nicaragua is likely to spread to other Central America republics is at hand A dispatch was received from the American legation at Tegucigalpa saying that martial law was declared there in anticipation of a revolutionary invasion The dispatch gave no details

Several days ago, however, information was received at the state department saying that Manuel Bonilla, former president of Honduras, was planning a revolutionary movement against President Davilla in order to re-establish himself as president of Honduras. In 1907 Bonilla was deposed and driven out of Honduras by the joint forces of President Davilla and President Zelaya. This was the revolution that led to the calling of the Central American peace conference which was had in Washington two years ago. In view of the fact that Bonilla was aided in attaining the presidency of Honduras through his friendship with Zelaya, officers of the state department regard it as reasonably certain that there will be a revolution against Davilla if Zelaya is overthrown.

Complicates the Situation.

If the revolutionary movement in Honduras develops to large proportions, the problem of quieting conditions there will be considerably more difficult than it is now. So far the revolution in Nicaragua has been confined entirely to the limits of that country. If the press reports that Zelaya has been victorious over the revolutionary troops are correct the state department will be in an embarrassing position Up to date the officers of the department have given all the moral encouragement possible to the insurgent movement. The department is working on the theory that General Estrada will be successful ultimately in defeating the Zelaya forces. The insurgent forces are more completely equipped with arms and ammunition than the government troops It is believed here also that they are numerically stronger than the Zelaya forces. In view of these facts, officers of the department do not credit the reports that Zelaya has been victorious over the revolutionists.

If such reports are correct, however the state department will take immediate steps to handle the situation. So far the department has not worked out all the plans for punishing Zelaya for the execution of the two Americans, because of the fact that a decisive battle had not occurred.

The Nicaraguan legation gave out a statement that a dispatch had been received from President Zelaya claiming a victory for the government troops over the forces of Estrada at the battle of Rama, the dispatches stating that Zelaya's forces suffered a loss of 200 men killed, while the revolutionary losses were larger

RAYNER FINDS PRECEDENT

Believes Zelaya Can Be Tried as International Criminal.

Washington, Dec 8.—Senator Rayner of Maryland proposes drastic action to bring President Zelaya to book for the killing of Cannon and Groce, the American members of the insurgent party in Nicaragua. Senator Rayner is considered one of the best lawyers in the senate and after a research of precedents in the state department he has reached the conclusion that President Zelaya can be tried for murder precedents justifying such a trial.

Senator Rayner believes that Zelaya is an international criminal and should be treated as such He will introduce a joint resolution authorizing the president of the United States to take all necessary steps for the apprehension of Zelaya and bringing him to trial for the killing of the two Americans

Senator Rayner assumes that the men were enlisted in the insurgent army and were not guilty of treason His resolution will in no sense be a declaration of war, but will be directed against Zelaya for the execution of these men who were prisoners of war, and will authorize the president to act either with the forces of the United States alone or in conjunction with the insurgents

The resolution will treat the execution of the men as an international crime constituting the offense of murder under the international code of military warfare which is now universally recognized.

The Lure OF The Mask

By Harold Mac Grath

"A rose, signora!"

I gave it to her, smiling pityingly.

"God pray," she said, "that this man will make you happier than he made me!"

"Let us be on!" said the prince eagerly.

"Wait!" I turned to the woman. "Signora, what do you mean by those words?"

"His highness knows." She pointed to the prince, whose face I now saw, strangely enough, for the first time. It was black with rage and ugliness.

"What has he been to you?" I demanded.

She answered. I understood. In that moment I became a woman without illusions. Without looking at the prince I entered the carriage and closed the door in his face. He stormed; he lied. I was of stone. He turned upon the poor woman and struck her in the face. Even had I loved him that would have been the end of the romance. I drove home. There would be no wedding at the church that day. There was a great scandal. Every one took up the prince's cause, with the exception of the king.

The prince was almost bankrupt. He had squandered his all. He had sold to usurers half of the fortune he expected to get after marrying me. He had not the slightest affection for me. He was desperate and wanted the money. How old and wise I became during that ride home from the magistrate's! I vowed he should never have a penny. It should all go to the crown

When at length he found that I was really serious he became base in his tactics. He was the one who was wronged. He gave life to such rumors among those I knew that soon I found doors closed to me which had always been open. No Italian woman could see the matter from my point of view. I was an American for all that my mother was a Venetian, therefore I was wrong.

There! That is all. There is no more mystery concerning Sonia Hilda Grosvenor.

And so the letter ended. There was not a word regarding any future meeting. There was nothing to read between the lines. A great loneliness surged over Hillard. Was this, then, really the end? No! He would wait here in Florence till the day of doom. He would waste no time in seeking her, for he knew that if he sought he would not find.

Day after day dragged through the hours, and Florence grew thinned and torrid. Sometimes he rode past the Villa Ariadne, but he never stopped.

It was in the middle of June that one afternoon the concierge handed him a telegram. It contained but three words:

"Villa Serbelloni, Bellaggio"

The Villa Serbelloni, now a hotel, stands on a wooded promontory among the Alps and between the lakes, at Bellaggio, and all day long the warm sunshine floods its walls and terraces and glances from the polished leaves of the tropical plants.

The 6 o'clock boat from Como puffed up noisily and smokily to the quay, churning her side paddles Hillard stepped ashore impatiently. What a long day it had been! How white the Villa Serbelloni seemed up there on the little hilltop. He gave his luggage to the porter from the Grand and followed him on foot to the hotel He dressed quickly, and in less than an hour he stepped forth from the gardens and took the path up to the villa.

Afar he saw a table spread under the great oak. A woman sat by it. It was still daylight, and he would have known that head of hair among the ten thousand houris of heaven. She did not rise, but she extended her hand, a grave inquiry in her slumbrous eyes. With equal gravity he clasped the hand, but held back the impulse to kiss it. He sat down opposite her and, smiling, whimsically inquired:

"Now, where did we leave off?"

At first she did not understand.

He enlightened her. "I refer to that Arabian Nights entertainment in New York. Where did we leave off that interesting discussion?"

She smiled brightly. "We shall take up the thread of that discourse with the coffee"

"Why not countermand the order for dinner? I am not hungry"

"But I am," she replied She was wholly herself now. The tact with which he began his address disembarrassed her. For two days since she dispatched the telegram she had lived in a kind of ecstatic terror. She had even regretted the message once it was beyond recall. "I am human enough to be hungry sometimes." She summoned the waiter.

The dinner was excellent, but Hillard scarcely knew what this or that plate was. And when the waiter brought the coffee and lingered for further orders it was Hillard who dismissed him rather curtly.

He said musingly: "We had agreed that it would be best never to meet again, that to keep the memory of that night fresh in our minds, a souvenir for old age, it were wisest to part then. Well, we can keep the memory of it for our old age. It will be a little secret between us, and we shall talk it over on just such nights as this."

He reached for her hand, which lay upon the cover, but without apparent notice of his movement she drew it back. A flash of pain crossed Hillard's face.

"I have waited patiently for weeks."

She faced him with an enigmatical smile, lighted a match, blew it out and drew a line across the center of the table.

He laughed. "What! Again?"

"Observe."

As a rejoinder he smoothed out the telegram she had sent to him. "Why did you send this to me?"

Her lips had no answer ready.

"There can be but one reason," he pursued.

"Friendship."

The beginning of the night was cool, but the fire of the world's desire burned in her cheeks, and she was afraid. She stepped to the railing, faced the purpling mountains and sang "Die Zauberflote." Hillard dared not touch her till the last note was gone.

"I did not come here because of friendship," he said. "Only one thing brought me—love and the hope of love."

She stared at him, her hand at her throat.

Then he took her in his arms suddenly, hungrily, even roughly. "You are mine, mine, and nothing in the world shall take you from my arms again, Sonia."

She pressed her palms against him and stood away. She looked bravely into his eyes now.

"I sent the message because I wanted you, because I am tired of lying to my heart, because I have a right to be happy, because—because I love you! Take me and, oh, be good and kind to me, for I have been very lonely and unhappy. Kiss me!" with a touch of the old imperiousness.

She clasped him fondly to herself.

"See Naples and die," she whispered, "but the spirit will come to Bellaggio."

THE END.

TELLS DEMOCRATS TO GET IN GAME

New York Jurist Says Party Must Quit Tagging Republicans.

New York, Dec. 8.—The members of the executive committee of the Democratic league, formed at the Saratoga conference of Democrats last spring, were dined by the Manhattan club, and in return told the 200 club members and their friends what to do to bring about Democratic success

The keynote of what the diners heard was that it is high time for the Democratic party to drop the policy of negation, which most of the speakers declared had dominated the party for many years. As Thomas A. Osborne, the chairman of the league executive committee and former mayor of Auburn, put it, "I want something to vote for, not merely something to vote against."

Former Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, who presided, said the same thing when he declared "a party to merit success must take the initiative upon pending questions of government It will never do to vacillate or wait until the Republicans have taken a stand and then oppose their position, whether it be right or wrong"

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Latest Cuticura Skin Book.

THE DEFICIT

President Taft in his annual message hits the nail on the head and declares that the deficit of 63 millions in the postal department is caused by the fact that magazines are permitted to be carried in the mails as second class matter. That brings them the same rate as is given the newspapers. Is that right? Not that the newspapers should be a specialized class, for that does not obtain, but the newspaper is a part and parcel of the public life, while a magazine is something quite ulterior. The postal laws ought to be made to favor, not the great metropolitan press, but the country paper—the paper that is picked up at the fireside each day and its columns scanned for the news of the community. That is the kind of a newspaper that is a part of the substance of the common people. It fills a place the great magazine with all its colored pictures and muckraking articles never can hope to attain. The magazine publishers contend that they should be granted the same rates in the mail as the newspaper, and that is where they pull the wool over Uncle Sam's eyes. When a periodical can afford to openly boast that they are receiving $6,000 to $7,000 for a single page advertisment, such as some of the great illustrated weeklies do, there seems to be no special reason why they should be granted any low rates by the government or anybody else. The weekly and monthly magazines that sell for anywhere from 25 cents per year up to $1.50, and flood the mails with their copies — these are the cause of the deficit in the mail service appropriation, and not the country newspaper. Let the magazines and the advertising periodicals pay a higher rate of postage as President Taft suggests and the deficit will disappear.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message from a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucu-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systemmic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. if women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Mucu-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflamation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Mucu-Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexions. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store. The Rexall Store, Siegrist & Williams, cor. Main and Fifth Sts.

Hints For The Housewife

The Age's Daily Recipe.

CHILI CON CARNI—Cut a round steak into small pieces put it into a frying pan with a tablespoonful of hot dripping, two tablespoonfuls of rice and a cup of boiling water. Cover closely and simmer until the meat is tender. Take the seeds and a part of the rind from two large red peppers, cover with a little of the water in which the meat was cooked, and simmer for several minutes, adding a little garlic and thyme. Take from the fire and as soon as the peppers are cold enough to handle squeeze them hard into the water in which they were cooked. Add this to the stew, and bring to a boil. If too thin thicken with a little flour. Season with salt and onion juice. Serve very hot.

The woman who has a quantity of black Chantilly lace sufficient to make a waist is lucky this season for Chantilly lace is the height of fashion. It should be made over a lightweight white silk, satin or chiffon cloth lining, with gold net or lace discreetly used for the yoke and lower parts of the sleeves. But the gold should be placed under the black lace. Then, if a touch of color is desired, this may be introduced in satin pipings, about the yoke and wrists with a cravat of the same about the collar.

When the neckband of a shirt waist is too large, instead of pinning it over to fit the collar or fancy neck dressing, make the band fit properly, for it is easy to do, consisting of ripping the band from the front edges to the shoulder seams. This done, it is easy to discover whether the waist can be drawn up and the fullness run into the shoulder seam. One-quarter inch taken from the backs and fronts will make the band measure one inch less. If the fit is smooth on the shoulders and the seams cannot be opened, then run a quarter inch tuck on either side of the front closing and replace the band.

A discovery well worth knowing has been discovered by a Coshocton matron, and many will be glad to know of it. When cleaning silver one can save much work and trouble by this simple discovery. Take an aluminum kettle and place the silver in this, covering it with water put it on the stove and let the water come to a boil. This simple process cleans the silver.

When The Stomach Stops

WORKING PROPERLY, BECAUSE THERE IS WIND IN IT, USE STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS TO SET IT GOING AGAIN.

A Trial Box Free

THE DOCTORS call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme. at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in the trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

ALL THIS IS EXPLAINED in doctor books; how undigested food causes gasses by fermentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wated by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in prepaartion and worse than worthless.

A DERANGED STOMACH is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonderworking little tablets are in evidence.

THEY WERE MADE for this very purpose to attack gas making foods ment. A whole book could be writ- and convert them into proper nutri- that might be told with profit to suf- ten about them and then not all told ferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter in to this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the STUART DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have them in mind

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste. before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them: everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them: they say there are 40.000 doctors using them. but when you know what is the matter of yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

P. S. Better send today for samples of the tablet. You will get quite a box of them.

REPUBLICANS TO TAKE UP FIGHT

State House Officials Will Help Harmon In Probe Work.

ASK LEGISLATURE TO DONATE

Take Stand That Public Believes They Have Been Instrumental In Blocking Previous Investigations and Seek to Clear Party's Name From Stigma — Attorney General Prepares Suits Against McKinnon Estate and Bondsmen.

Columbus, O., Dec. 8.—Republican state officials held a conference and decided to aid Governor Harmon in his probe of state departments. When the general assembly meets, these officials will support the governor in his request for funds to carry on the investigation. After the conference it was stated that the officials believed the party had suffered because of an impression in the public mind that it was responsible for the stifling of past investigations.

Attorney General Denman conferred with Governor Harmon today and will at once begin preparations for filing suits against the estate and bondsmen of the late State Treasurer McKinnon for the collection of $8.800 interest alleged to have been paid illegally to McKinnon by three banks.

Writs of discovery probably will be asked in the courts which will permit the attorney general to get books and data of banks which have refused to give information concerning state deposits. Questions will be put to bank officials in court relative to deposits by the state or its officers, the amount and times of such deposits. They also will be asked whether interest was paid on them, when, and in what amount and to whom.

PRISONER IS SURRENDERED

Mob Gives Kentucky Court Chance to Convict Negro.

Williamstown, Ky., Dec. 8.—A mob caught Earl Thompson, a negro, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maggie Roberts a week ago, near her home at Dry Ridge. The leader of the mob turned the negro over to the authorities. Then they marched with him to the courthouse. The grand jury was 10 minutes in returning an indictment for murder. Within eight minutes his trial was over, and the mob was told the jury had returned a verdict of guilty. The judge sentenced Thompson to be hanged on Jan. 7.

Then the mob leaders thanked the judge and the jury for being so careful and considerate, and the order to "right about face, march," was given the 500 members and they marched away from the courthouse.

SPEEDS THROUGH MOB

Sheriff Saves Prisoner by Daring Dash In Automobile.

Dublin, Ga., Dec. 8.—By driving a high-power automobile at full speed through a mob, Sheriff Flanders saved Ransom Newsome, a negro, from being lynched. The negro had been arrested and jailed here for assault on Mrs. Sarah Holland, the wife of a planter. The victim went to the jail and picked out Newsome as her assailant from a number of negro prisoners. THE STAGE

"The Wizard of Wiseland"

It has been generaly acknowledged by critics that the popularity of a musical comedy depends in large measure on the coherency of its plot from immediate failure, it cannot carry it to success The writers of the book of "The Wizard of Wiseland" have evidently borne this point well in mind, for exchange criticisms show that it has a well defined story as well as music and lyrics of a high order.

"The Wizard of Wiseland" has been one of the pronounced hits of this season's new musical pieces in other cities and managers announce its first apeparance at the Sixth-St. theatre on Monday Dec. 13 It is vouched that the choruses, ensembles and lyrical numbers are of a type that make general appeal to theatr goers and that the entertainment throughout bristles with snappy comedy and sparkles with tuneful melody It is promised, too, that an able company of singing comedians and comediennes, with a splendid chorus of shapely and stunning girls, will realize the best possibilties of this latest success in musical extravaganza. One of the gems of the seventeen lyrics in the piece, "When the Angels Light the Candles in the Sky" a soprano solo, is a genuine classic and has been received everywhere with such applause that encores have perforce been limited to permit the continuance of the performance. "While Love is Blind," "Coming of the Moor" "Isle of Dreams" etc. are some of the other big popular hits. Manager Williams advises that seats be secured early.

Advice To Singers

Adelaide Norwood, prima donna, who will be heard in the title role of "Aida" Dec. 15, was asked to offer advice to young and aspiring singers

"The study of singing should not begin too soon," began Miss Norwood as serious consequences of ten result from imprudence in this respect. The physique should be fully established before subjecting the voice to the unavoidable strain of the routine work of the prospective artist. From about the twelfth to the seventeenth year although it is impossible to name an exact length of time—the vocal organ needs absolute rest. Young girls should not even try to sing and should not e allowed to do so by their elders.

Generally speaking, at least three years must be devoted to voice culture.

"Daily work should be divided, the attention being equally given to practical and theoretical studies. There are exercises for the placing of the voice, vocalizing, classic arias, etc., and all works calculated to form or develop the artistic sense should be closely studied. It is unnecessary to devote many hours to vocal exercise. One hour of intelligent work will suffice, if inly it be regularly adhered to. In the beginning, when there is more or less danger of impending progress through wer fatigue, an hour is quite sufficient.

Coshocton Is Ripe For Good Baseball Team

The chief promoter of the new Central Ohio baseball league, W. D. Jones of Columbus, has written Zach Neighbor, George Ordway and Jimmie Stewart asking them to get busy and see that Coshocton is represented in the new league. The greatest jump wil be only 77 miles and it is figured that a salary list of about $600 a week will maintain a first class team. It is the idea to have Cambridge, Dennison and Coshocton as theeastern division and Mt. Vernon, Newark and Lancaster as the western division. The old club owners in the two latter towns are sick and tired of putting up a team for the fast company of the Ohio State League and are said to be dead anxious for the new league to be a go. It is likely that a meeting of local boosters will be called for the first of the year. The germ is growing and the baseball fever is beginning to spread It is only a question of whether the enthusiasm fever will keep up when people are asked to subscribe for stock in the baseball company. Cheer up; it is a great sport and Coshocton is ripe for a good team.

MURDOCK TO THE FRONT

Leads Fight to Force Passage of Postal Savings Bank Bill.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The Republican insurgents of the house have evolved a plan by which they hope to put through a bill at the present session creating a postal savings bank and at the same time routing the leadership of Nelson W. Aldrich and Joseph G. Cannon. In laying their plans to oppose the responsible leadership in the house and senate the insurgents have adroitly selected one of the measures whose passage at this time is urgently requested in the president's annual message.

REPRESENTATIVE MURDOCK.

The insurgents will have a round-up Saturday night. They will discuss ways and means to force the postal savings bank bill to a passage. Representative Murdock of Kansas will lead the fight

GOLF POOL IS POPULAR NOW

The latest stunt in the billard halls is "golf pool." Only two balls are used, the cue ball and one other ball. Both are "spotted" and then the round of the "course" is made, begining at the left side pocket as hole No. 1, and then making the rounds. Experts can make it in 18 shots, the clever play being made to get position and allowing about three shots for each pocket. A scratch counts four up. When you make the ball in the pocket, then the next fellow gets a turn. One ball must hit a cushion at every shot. It is becoming quite the rage.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas, Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

Every old sore is an external symptom of a depraved or polluted condition of the blood. These festering places on the flesh are kept open and in a state of irritation because the circulation is continually discharging into them the impurities and morbid matters with which it is filled. This polluted condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, which has left the blood stream weak and germ-infected, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has not all been eliminated and has been absorbed into the circulation. External treatment may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the sore will return or break out at another place and be as bad or worse than before. S.S.S. heals old sores by removing every particle of impurity from the circulation. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and so completely changes the circulation that there is no longer any impurity to drain through the sore, but the place is once more nourished with rich, healthful blood. S.S.S. heals the sore from the bottom, the skin regains its natural color, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the blood the place is permanently healed. Suffered Seven Years

Agony of Rheumatism Overcome by Rheuma, and C E Anderson Guarantees It

Buffalo, July 19, 1909: "For seven years before taking Rheuma I suffered greatly with Rheumatism in my hip, and at night was scarcely able to lie down to sleep. Less than one bottle of Rheuma cured me, and I believe this is the best remedy known for Rheumatism." Mrs. Alice A. Brown, 39 Kane Street.

Rheuma will drive the uric acid from your system; will renovate the kidneys, and put new energy into them.

Already the news of the cures Rheuma has made has spread the country over and Rheumatics victims in Coshocton will apreciate the enterprise of C. E. Anderson in securing such a truly great prescription.

Rheuma relieves Rheumalism so quickly, that it gains the confidence of the patient in a few days. C. E. Anderson thinks so well of it that he sells it on the no-cure no-pay, plan, and on that basis every rheumatic sufferer in Coshocton ought toask for Rheuma. The price is only 50c a bottle. Mail orders filled by Rheuma Co., 1000 West-ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE WILL BE OVER WITH

If your meals don't fit comfortably or you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fementation and cure Indigestion

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your Stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Billiousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drugstore the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out of order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly without any fuss or discomfort all of any kind of food you eat.

WHO WILL BE NEW CITY CLERK?

The newly elected city councilmen have all been sworn into office by Mayor Hamilton and are ready to enter upon their new duties at the first meeting January 11.

There is considerable speculation concerning the appointment of the new city clerk. The name of Edward Wimmer, who served efficiently a few years ago, has been mentioned. It has been suggested that the new city auditor be given full charge of the city's books, keeping the minutes of council, the director of public service, safety etc. It is argued that this will be cheaper than to have a separate clerk for each department.

Stovaine Proves Successful.

New York, Dec. 8.—Four patients—three boys and a woman—were successfully operated upon at the hospital of the New York society for the relief of the ruptured and crippled, the new anesthetic, stovaine, being administered by its discoverer, Professor Thomas Jonessco of Roumania. The four patients were perfectly conscious throughout the operations, and each at the conclusion admitted that they had not felt the slightest pain during the trying ordeals.

WILLIAM GREEN CANDIDATE FOR M. W. A. PRESIDENT

William Green was born of English parents at Coshocton Ohio, on March 3, 1870 and is thirty nine years old. His parents came from England to America in 1868. He is the oldest of the family and has three sisters and one brother. He attended school regularly until sixteen years of age, when like the oldest of most miners' sons he was required to go to work in the mines with his father. Shortly after entering the mine, and while quite young he was elected secretary of the local union connected then with the old "Progressive Union" and later when the local was destroyed as the result of a disastrous strike he joined an assembly of the Knights of Labor, and then in turn became a member of the United Mine Workers of America. During the fifteen years he worked in the mines he always served in some capacity as a local officer, either on the mine committee as secretary-treasurer or president. He was married in 1892: his family consists of his wife and five children all girls to whom he is intensely devoted.

In 1900 he was elected President of Sub-District No. 6 of District 6 U. M. W. of A., known as the Cambridge District of Ohio, and was reelected five terms in succession without opposition: in January 1906 he was elected President of District 6 U. M. W. of A., (Ohio) and is now serving his fourth term having been re-elected each term without opposition.

He has attended every national convention and joint conference since 1899, and has served as a member of the Scale Committee in practically every joint conference since. In 1906 as President of District 6 he conducted the strike of all the mine workers of Ohio to a successful termination, and in the following years organized the mine workers of the Pomeroy district inaugurated and won a strike and for the first time in the history of that field established a uniform scale of wages

While he was required to enter the mines at the early age of sixteen without completing his education, nevertheless he continued his studies in fact he has never ceased to be a student, and thus has secured a good English education. He is thoroughly progressive is in touch with the entire mining situation, and the labor movement. He is a clear thinker and is especially gifted as a convincing orator a skilled debater and a leader among men.

Coshocton and Ohio miners swear by Wm. Green and are doing all in their power to see him elected International President of the United Mine Workers.

A WAY OPEN

Many a Coshocton Reader knows it Well

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Coshocton people have made it possible. The public statement of treir experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Coshocton. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. H. Carroll, 506 Chestnut-st., Coshocton, Ohio, says, "Kidney trouble had completely broken down my health and the doctor told me that he could only give me temporary relief. The pains raidiated from my kidneys to all parts of my body and I often felt as though I would have to take to my bed. The kidney secretion were unnatural and their irregularity in passing was a source of great annoyance. Finally I gave up doctoring, believing that there was no help for me. About this time a friends asked me why I did not try Doan's Kidney Pills and on her advice. I procured a box at Siegrist & Williams' drug store. In a week afted I began their use, the pains had disappeared and my kidneys were doing their work as they should. My health is now better than it has been for years." (Statement given August 28, 1906.)

Mrs. Carroll was interviewed on May 7, 1909 and she said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me my health has been excellent. I gladly confirm the testimonial I have previously given in favor of this excellent remedy."

Diamond Business Is Picking Up

"There may be hard times and a close money market and all that" remarked a local jeweler to an Age man. "but we have sold more diamonds in the last six months than we have equaled for several years. I don't know whether people have more money to invest or merely that they are realizing that diamonds are cheaper now than they ever will be again, and at that the advance has been remendous. Diamonds are now selling for $220 a carat that a few years ago could have been bought for $100."

The crowd of Christmas shoppers on the streets and in the streets Saturday night was immense, and merchants state that scores of shoppers are realling following The Age's advice and are doing their shopping earlier this year than for many years.

WHAT THE NEW CODE MEANS

DENMAN ON NEW MUNICIPAL CODE

Exhaustive Review of Provisions of the Paine Law.

GOVERNMENT OF OHIO CITIES

Mayor Given Almost Supreme Power as the Head of the Municipality. Changes of Officers and In Powers and Duties of Officers In the Several Departments—Doubtful Questions Aired by Attorney General.

Attorney General U. G. Denman has prepared a comprehensive statement explaining the various provisions of the new municipal code. As most officials are not familiar with these provisions, the attorney general's review will be found invaluable.

Under the Paine law creating the new municipal code every city in Ohio will have a new form of government beginning the first day of January. Under this code the mayor is given almost supreme powers as the head of the city. He makes the appointments of the heads of all departments, and if they do not do their duty he can remove them. The code centralizes the power in the mayor and makes him responsible for what goes on in the municipality.

If the population of a municipality is below 5,000 a village government is decreed, according to the municipal code. If the number of inhabitants exceeds 5,000 there will be a city government with the number of wards and councilmen determined by the population.

Attorney General Denman's statement follows:

The Paine law, so-called, was passed by the General Assembly of Ohio on April 29, 1908, and it amends and supplements certain sections of the Municipal Code of 1902. The sections amended are sections 129, 131, 138, 139, 140, 141, 144, 145, 146, 147, 152, 154, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 164, 165 and 227. Section 154 is supplemented by two separate sections denominated section 154-a and section 154-b respectively, and these are incorporated into the code as two separate sections.

Section 163 of the original Municipal Code is repealed by the Paine law. It, as originally enacted and until its repeal in the Paine law, provided that notice of the time and place and general scope of every examination held by the board of public safety in the civil service of the city should be given by publication once each week for two weeks preceding such examination, and the method of publication was prescribed in the section. There seems to have been no provision enacted in the Paine law to take the place of this section 163, unless it be in section 159 as amended, which allows the civil service commission to prepare rules and regulations adapted to carry out the purposes of the Paine law with reference to the classified service of the city. Under this power the board, of course, might provide for notices of examination.

It may be stated in the beginning that the Paine law does not affect villages, but applies only to those municipal corporations in Ohio known as cities; that is, the Paine law does not effect any reorganization or change in the form of village governments.

The bill abolishes four boards, namely: The board of public service, the board of public safety, the civil service commission as now constituted, and the board of appeal in civil service.

In its operation it will affect the powers and duties of the mayor, the powers and duties of officers in the department of public service, the department of public safety, and of the council.

It creates three new boards: First, the board of control, second, a board or commission to appoint another board which may be designated the third one and which the statute denominates as civil service commissioners. The board of control will come into existence on Jan. 1, 1910, and will consist of the mayor, the director of public safety, and the director of public service. The second, or appointing board spoken of, is to consist of the president of the board of education of the city school district in which the city is located, the president of the board of sinking fund commissioners and the president of the council. This appointing board is provided for by section 157 which takes effect Jan. 1, 1910, and on that day, by the terms of the bill, these three officials will become and be an appointing board whose sole duty it will be to appoint the third board spoken of, to be known as civil service commissioners. Each of said civil service commissioners must be a resident elector of the city, and each of them is appointed for terms of three years and shall hold office until their successors are appointed and qualified, and may be removed by the appointing commission. At the first appointment, however, one commissioner must be appointed for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and thereafter their respective successors are to be appointed for three years. The appointing board will at all times consist of whatever persons may at the time of occupying the positions respectively of president of the council, president of the board of education of the city, and president of the sinking fund commission.

Under the Municipal Code as originally enacted, the board of public safety was also the civil service commission, and the board of appeal for chief of police or fire department when suspended by mayor.

So far as boards are concerned the result of the amendment is to leave the same number of boards as existed prior to the amendment, less one.

CHANGES OF OFFICERS IN DEPARTMENTS.

(a) The board of public service is abolished, and the members thereof go out of office with the last day of this year, and under the act the department of public service, beginning with Jan. 1, 1910, will be administered by a single director, designated a director of public service, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and shall serve at the will of the mayor, who may remove such director and appoint his successor at any time. Present boards of public service continue to serve and exercise all the powers and perform all the duties heretofore exercised and performed, except as hereinbefore stated until the end of this year.

(b) The board of public safety is abolished, and the members thereof went out of office with last day of July, 1909. Since on and after Aug 1, 1909, the department of safety is to be administered by a single director, designated a director of public safety. He is appointed by the mayor and serves at the will of the mayor, who may dismiss him and appoint his successor at any time. In abolishing the board of public safety the act also abolished the former civil service commission and board of appeal, which, as stated above, were made up of the members of the board of public safety.

CHANGES IN POWERS AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS IN THE SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS.

(a) The Mayor.—Before the enactment of the Paine law the mayor appointed the directors of public safety and the several officers in the classified service in the department of public safety. That is, in the police and fire departments of the department of public safety. These last mentioned appointments were made by the mayor from lists of names of persons who had taken the examination under the board of public safety as a civil service commission. When a vacancy occurred the directors of public safety certified to the mayor the names of the three persons who had obtained the highest grades for the particular position, and from among these three names the mayor filled the vacancy.

Section 129 as amended in the Paine law now provides that the mayor shall appoint and have the power to remove the director of [illegible] the director of public safety, and the heads of the sub-departments of the [illegible]

The Paine bill itself provides that the department of public safety shall have five sub-departments, namely, fire, police, charity, correction and building inspection. Under the language above quoted the mayor will appoint the heads of these sub-departments of the department of public safety as well as the director of public safety himself.

Section 147 allows the director of public service to establish such sub-departments in the department of public service as may be necessary. When these sub-departments are established by the director of public service the mayor will appoint the heads of the same. On and after January 1, 1910, the mayor will be a member of the board of control, the other two members of which will be the director of public safety and the director of public service, and the mayor will be president of this board. On and after January 1, the mayor will not be authorized to make appointments to positions in the classified service on the certification of the civil service commissioners, as he has heretofore done, and stated above herein.

(b) The Director of Public Safety.—This director was appointed and took the office August 1, 1909. Section 147 as amended in the Paine bill makes this director the chief administrative authority of the fire, police, charity, correction and building inspection departments in the department of public safety, and gives him all the powers and duties connected with and incident to the appointment, regulation and government of these departments except as otherwise provided by law. He makes all contracts with reference to the management of these departments and for the erection or repair of all buildings or improvements in connection with said departments, and for the purchase of all supplies necessary for said departments, subject to the restrictions imposed by law. He also manages and makes all contracts in reference to police stations, fire houses, cemeteries and reform schools, houses of correction, infirmaries, hospitals, work houses, farms, pest houses, and all other charitable and reformatory institutions, now or hereafter established and maintained.

Under section 152 as amended he is to classify the service in the police and fire departments in conformity with the ordinance of council determining the number of persons to be employed therein, and he is to make all rules for the regulation and discipline of such departments except as otherwise provided in this act.

Under section 154 he is to make all contracts and expenditures of money for acquiring lands for the erection or repairing of station houses, police stations, fire department buildings, fire cisterns and plugs that may be required, and for the purchase of engines, apparatus, and all other supplies necessary for the police and fire departments, and for all other undertakings and departments under the supervision of the department of public safety; but he may not make any expenditure of more than five hundred dollars unless the same is first authorized and directed by council, and in making, altering, or modifying, such contracts he must be governed by section 143 of the code, which requires that all contracts involving over five hundred dollars must be let at competitive bidding after advertisement, required in section 143. He may make no sale or disposition of any property belonging to the city without being first authorized by resolution or ordinance of the council.

As to appointments otherwise provided by law, as stated in section 147, the director of public safety may not appoint the chief of police, or the chief of the fire department, nor the head of any other sub-department in the department of public safety. These chiefs and heads are to be appointed by the mayor, under section 129 as amended. The members of the sub-departments below the chiefs and heads thereof will be in the classified service, and will be appointed by the director of public safety from the names certified to him for that purpose by the civil service commissioners provided for in the Paine law, and from the classified service, after competitive examinations. In other words, the director of public safety will now make these appointments below the heads of the sub-departments from the three candidates graded highest in the respective lists as shown by the result of the civil service examination, and as certified to the director by the civil service commission, whereas formerly the mayor made such appointments, and the mayor appointed the chief of police and the chief of the fire department in the same way because these chiefs were formerly in the classified service. The chiefs of the police, fire department, and the heads of the other sub-departments in the department of public safety, are not now in the classified service. Cemeteries, houses of refuge

Dr. Pierce's Health Talks

The miracle of motherhood is often overshadowed by the misery of motherhood. The great functional changes which are incident to child bearing leave their mark for life on many a mother. Some women offer up their lives as a sacrifice on the altar of motherhood. A far greater number live on in ceaseless misery. Their strength fails, their beauty fades, they have no ambition and no enjoyment in life. To every woman

THE GRANGE

Its News and Views and Prospects. HARRY S. CATON, Editor.

Ohio State Grange.

The thirty-seventh annual session of the Ohio State Grange will be held at Springfield Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 14, 15, 16. The session will be held in the Armory Hall in the City building.

The session will be opened at 10 a. m. Tuesday and all delegates present and answering to roll call will be entitled to their mileage and per diem.

The Fifth Degree will be conferred at 4 p. m., Tuesday and the Sixth Degree Tuesday evening.

The city of Springfield will tender a public reception to the members of the Ohio State Grange and visiting patrons on Wednesday evening, and addresses will be made by city and grange officials.

It is expected that N. J. Bachelder who was recently elected Master of the National Grange for the third term will be presentand address the meeting. The handsome solid silver corn trophy cup, which was described in last week's Grange Department in The Age, will be on exhibition.

The Grange in Ohio the last year and this year's state meeting promises to be one of the most sucessful ever held.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wyler will cast Coshocton county's votes at the meeting.

The New Manual

The new manual adopted by the National Grange is now ready and can be secured from the State Secretary. In it the single degrees have been much improved by many useful suggestions. Diagrams are inserted explaining all difficult parts.

Echoes from the National Grange Meeting.

National Secretary, Freeman's report showed that more Granges had been organized and more new members admitted during 1909 than during any year since 1875.

The report of National Treasurer Eva S. McDowell showed that the funds of the National Grange amount to more than $116.00. Of this fifty thousand dollars consists of mortgages on real estate: forty-five thousand is invested in railroad and municipal bonds, and the rest is deposited in savings banks.

Secretary Wilson sent John Hamilton, Institute Specialist of the United States as a representative of the National Department of Agriculture, at the National Grange.

Speaking before that body he said: "Unless steps are taken to increase the production of the American soil within two decades the output of the farms will only equal the demands of this country. After that time the demand will exceed the output and then the condition will confront the people."

One new state was admitted to the National Grange circle at this session, this was South Dakota with twenty-four new Granges.

The American Roadmakers' Association was represented at the National Grange by its vice-president, Samuel B Hill, son of the great railroad magnate Mr. Hill will represent the United States at the International Roadmakers' Association at Brussels.

State Master C. B. Kigley of Washington exhibited a potato weighing five pounds at the National Grange to prove his statements that the Northwest could beat the Eastern states on potatoes.

The National Grange visited Iowa Agricultural College. Prof. Holden, theg reat corn expert who spoke in Coshocton a few years ago gave the welcome address.

New Hampshire's report showed that she has thirty-two more Granges than towns.

Ohio's record this year is forty-one new Granges, eleven re-organized Granges and 4500 new members.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Age's Daily Recipe.

CREAM TAFFY. — Soak a tablespoonful of gum arabic in two tablespoonfuls of cold water for half an hour. Pour a tablespoonful of this water upon a pound of granulated sugar and add a cup of cold water. Turn into porcelain lined saucepan melted, then add one-half teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Do not stir after the mixture begins to boil. Cook steadily until a little dropped into cold water is brittle. Stir in a teaspoonful of vanilla extract and pour into a greased and chilled pan as soon as it is cold enough to handle pull quickly into long sticks, pulling each of these until very light in color.

Keep a roll of cheese cloth for bags and drainers.

Keep hand sewing implements on hand for dressing fowls—strong cotton, a thimble, tape twine, needle and scissors.

When ironing roller towels try slipping them over the board as you would a skirt. They are half the trouble and the edges meet when folded.

Emery powder and oil made into a paste is an excellent mixture to clean steel. Rub on well and polish, after which rub with an oiled rag, and then polish up again with a clean duster.

In slicing bacon, always place the rind side down. Do not try to cut through the rind, but when a sufficient number of slices are cut, slip the knife under them, keeping it as close as possible to the rind.

An excellent way to clean kid gloves is to wash them on the hands and wash well in spirits of turpentine just as you would wash the hands. The fingers and soiled parts must be rubbed well, and when the gloves are taken off they must be stretched and allowed to dry in a brisk wind.

To clean real fine lace lay a newspaper on a flat surface and sprinkle thickly with fine magnesia. Put the lace on the magnesia and cover with another coating of the magnesia. Cover with paper and place a heavy weight on top of the lace, which should be left in this condition for several days.

board of control what is in effect a veto power on the letting of contracts above five hundred dollars, even though the same is authorized by council.

(c) Department of Public Service.—This department, under section 129 as amended, is to be administered by a director of public service to be appointed and take office as hereinbefore stated, and he will have the same powers and perform the same duties conferred by law upon the present boards of public service except as to the management of those matters above stated to have been given to the director of public safety; namely, cemeteries, houses of refuge and correction, workhouses, farms, infirmaries, hospitals, pesthouses and other charitable and reformatory institutions.

No contract in this department in excess of five hundred dollars may be awarded except on the approval of the board of control. Bids are to be filed with this director for contracts in this department, and are to be opened in the presence of the city auditor or his chief deputy. Contracts for five hundred dollars or less may be let in this department by the director of service without authority of council and without advertising bids, but contracts involving an expenditure of more than that amount must first be authorized by council, and bids must be received in accordance with section 143, as stated above, for contracts in the department of public safety. The board of control, therefore, has a veto power on these contracts, the same as in the department of public safety.

(d) The Civil Service Commission.—Section 157 as amended provides that the president of the board of education of the city school district in which the city is located, the president of the board of sinking fund commissioners and the president of the council, shall constitute a commission which shall appoint three resident electors of the city, to be known as civil service commissioners. This section takes effect Jan. 1, 1910, and these civil service commissioners may be appointed on that day.

Section 159 as amended provides that all applicants for admission into the classified service shall be subject to examination, which shall be competitive, public and open to all residents of the city, with such limitations as to age, residence, health, habits and moral character as said commissioners may prescribe. Said commissioners must adopt rules and regulations providing for the grading of offices and positions similar in character, in groups and divisions, so as to permit the filling of offices and positions in the higher grades through promotions, and must provide for public examinations to ascertain the fitness of all applications for appointment in the classified service. Appointments are to be made as follows:

The appointing board or officer shall notify the commission of any vacancy to be filled, the commission shall thereupon certify to such board or officer the three candidates graded highest in the respective lists as shown by the result of such examination. Such board or officer shall thereupon appoint one of the three so certified.

Section 158 as amended provides that the unclassified service shall include elective officers and officers appointed subject to confirmation by council or appointed by any state officer or court; employes of the council; persons who are by law to serve without remuneration, persons who are appointed to positions requiring professional or technical skill as may be determined by the civil service commissioners; persons giving instruction in any educational institution, persons supervising elections, persons having charge of any principal department of the government of any city, the head or chief of any division or principal department of any city relating to engineering, waterworks, street cleaning, or health, chiefs of police and fire departments, respectively, superintendent of any workhouse, house of refuge, infirmary or hospital, librarian of any public library, private secretaries, deputies in the office of the city auditor and city treasurer, and all unskilled laborers, and such appointees of the civil service commissioners as they may by rule determine.

The classified service shall comprise offices and places not included in the unclassified service as above stated.

(e) The City Council.—Section 227 as amended provides that council shall by ordinance or resolution, except as otherwise provided in this act, determine the number of officers, clerks and employes in any department of the city government, and shall fix by ordinance or resolution their respective salaries and compensation, and the amount of bond to be given for each officer, clerk or employe in any department of the city government, if any be required, and said bonds shall be made by such officer, clerk or employe with surety subject to the approval of the mayor of said city.

Under the code prior to the Paine bill the directors of public service determined the number of employes of all classes in the department of public service and fixed their respective compensations. Under the Paine law the director of public service determines the number and classification of employes in the department of public service, but the compensation is now to be fixed by the city council.

SOME DOUBTFUL QUESTIONS.

(a) As stated under subdivision "d" of division "second" above the civil service commission is to be appointed by three officers named in section 157 as amended in the Paine bill. These appointing officers are designated as —

> "the president of the board of education of the city school district in which the city is located, the president of the board of sinking fund commissioners, and the president of the council."

The question arising here is, what board of sinking fund officers was intended by the general assembly when it used the language "president of the board of sinking fund commissioners." That board having charge, management and control of the sinking fund in cities is known as the board of sinking fund trustees. The word "trustees" is used in the Municipal Code in designating this particular board of officers, and in the following language in section 102 of the Municipal Code, 96 Ohio Laws, page 54:

> "In all municipal corporations the sinking fund shall be managed and controlled by a board designated as the trustees of the sinking fund, which in cities shall be composed of four citizens thereof. * * * In villages the trustees of the sinking fund shall be the mayor, clerk and chairman of the finance committee of council."

And so through the code. This board of officers managing and controlling the sinking fund of municipalities are designated and referred to as the trustees of the sinking fund.

Section 3970-1 of the Revised Statutes as amended in 97 Ohio Laws, pages 352 and 353, has the following language:

> "The board of education of every district shall provide a sinking fund for the extinguishment of all its bonded indebtedness, which sinking fund shall be managed and controlled by a board of commissioners designated as the 'board of commissioners of the sinking fund of ———' (inserting the name of the district), which shall be composed of five electors thereof, and who shall be appointed by the court of common pleas of the county in which such district is chiefly located, provided that in city or village districts the board of commissioners of the sinking fund of the city or village may be the board of commissioners of the sinking fund of the school district."

The language used in section 157 as amended in the Paine bill is "president of the board of sinking fund commissioners." Reading this language just quoted literally and alone it would seem that the general assembly must have meant the president of the board managing the sinking fund of the board of education because that board is called a "board of commissioners of the sinking fund of ——" (inserting the name of the district.)

It is difficult to connect these words with any other phrase or sentence that will aid in ascertaining the meaning of the general assembly, and to my mind the matter is so doubtful and uncertain as to require an immediate amendment by the general assembly, or a construction of this section by the court. It seems improbable that the general assembly meant to have the civil service commissioners appointed by an appointing board, a majority of whom are in effect school officers, yet the language used, namely: "sinking fund commissioners," would have to be entirely changed and read as sinking fund trustees in order to make the city board president one of this appointing board.

In construing the language I should not feel at liberty to depart from the wording of this section 157, because there seems to be no guides which direct us to the use of the rule which many times allows a departure from the literal reading. The president of the board of sinking fund commissioners for the school district could act as a member of this appointing board, and the general assembly could, under the constitution, make him such a member. If such action were prohibited by the constitution we could then, in order to save the law from failure, construe the word "commissioners" to mean trustees. That situation, however, is not present, and my notion is that we are confined to the literal reading of the language, and that one of the members of this appointing board must be the president of the sinking fund commissioners for the school district in which the city is located.

(b) Section 129 as amended in the Paine bill requires the mayor to appoint the director of public safety and the heads of the sub-departments of the department of public safety. This requires the mayor to appoint the chief of police and the chief of the fire department, which are two sub-departments of the department of public safety. This section took effect on August 1, 1909, but section 162 which does not take effect until Jan. 1, 1910, provides in part that > "the chiefs and members of the police and fire departments shall be dismissed only as provided in section 152 of this act, and the appeal therein provided to the board of public safety shall be made to the civil service commission as herein provided, and under such rules as the commission may adopt."

The words "this act" just quoted mean the Municipal Code, and the words "therein provided" mean as provided in said section 152 of the Municipal Code. This section 152 is not expressly amended by the Paine bill. Here, however, are two sections which seem to be inconsistent, section 129 as amended making it the duty of the mayor to appoint the chiefs of the police and fire departments on or after Aug. 1, 1909, up to Jan. 1, 1910, when section 162 takes effect, and the provision thereof above quoted stating that the chiefs and members of the police and fire departments shall be dismissed only as provided in section 152 of this act, etc. The only way these two provisions may be harmonized is that section 129 as amended took effect Aug. 1, 1909, and must control until section 162 takes effect at a later date, namely, Jan. 1, 1910. Such chiefs of police or chiefs of the fire departments as are then in office, namely, Jan. 1, 1910, may be removed only as provided in section 152, and they are given an appeal to the civil service commission provided for in the Paine bill: that is, such chiefs may only be removed by the mayor and for the causes stated in section 152 of the Code, and must be given a hearing on appeal before the civil service commission as provided in the Paine law. If such chiefs are removed after Jan. 1, 1910, and the action of the mayor is sustained by the civil service commission, the mayor may then appoint such persons as he may see fit to appoint, regardless of the classified service, because under section 158 of the Code the chief of police and the chief of the fire departments are not in the classified service.

(c) Under section 162 as amended by the Paine law any appointee in the city government aside from the chiefs and members of the police and fire departments may be discharged by the removing board or officer, the same as may now be done. But after Jan. 1, 1910, certain appointees and employes in the public service, and other departments aside from the police and fire departments, will be under the classified service under section 158 of the Code, and section 162 as amended states that

> "No officer or employe within the classified service who shall have been appointed under the rules of the civil service commission shall be removed, reduced in rank or discharged except for some cause relating to his moral character or his suitableness to perform the duties of his position, though he may be suspended from duty for a period not exceeding thirty days pending the investigation of charges against him, and such charges must be determined by the removing authority, and reported in writing with a specific statement of reasons to the commission, but shall not be made public without the consent of the person discharged. Before such removal, reduction or discharge, the removing authority shall give such person a reasonable opportunity to know the charge against him, and to be heard in his own behalf."

The only provision for an appeal to the civil service commission, however, is the provision in this section 162 which gives an appeal to the chiefs and members of the police and fire departments. No appeal is given by the law to a person in the classified service in any of the other departments. In other words, in the departments aside from the police and fire, those persons in the classified service may be removed for cause in the manner above stated by the removing authority, but the decision of this removing authority, that is, the board or officer who makes the appointment, is final. That authority in the department of public service is, of course, the director of public service.

GENERAL EFFECT OF LAW.

The effect of this bill is to greatly increase the power and responsibility of the chief executives of the various cities of the state; that is, of the mayor, after Jan. 1, 1910. Under the law as it now stands he is in absolute control of the police department, and is responsible for the policy of law enforcement or non-enforcement through the police. By the orders of the mayor the police of the police department, with respect to making arrests and bringing to justice offenders of the law, may be absolutely controlled; that is, the mayor may cause the laws and ordinances in this respect to be enforced, or he may allow or order them to be violated continually. Under the new system he will not only retain that power, but since he will appoint and remove at will the director of public service as well as the director of public safety, and since he is a member and president of the board of control made up of himself and these two directors, he may absolutely control the administrative affairs of the financial side of the city, and the cities of our state will have good business administrations insofar as the mayor is an honest and capable municipal business man. Through his appointment of the other two members of the board of control he will have a veto power upon all contracts provided for by the city council, because all such contracts must meet the approval of this board of control. If the other two members on this board do not agree with him he is at liberty to at once remove them, or either of them, and appoint their successors, and in that way either sanction or veto the action of the council as to any public improvement or policy requiring the expenditure of money through contracts.

Much has lately been written concerning the commission plan of municipal government instituted in some three or four cities of the country. This law goes much further towards centralization of power and responsibility than these commission governments, because under it the whole power and authority practically of legislation and administration is vested in the mayor. It is limited only in the one circumstance, that the chiefs and members of the police and fire department, if suspended by the proper officer, may have an appeal to the civil service commission. This limitation is so narrow that it may be said almost literally that under the law as it will stand after Jan. 1, 1910, the mayor will be the legislative, executive and administrative departments.

This statute throws a greatly increased responsibility upon the voters in municipalities, because under it the character of the municipal government administration will depend entirely upon the character and qualifications of the man who occupies the office of mayor. If this law is to stand it will not do for the people to elect any man to the office of mayor upon one issue alone, or because he is a man advocating some particular policy for some particular division of the municipal government. Added to honesty he must have the further qualifications of intelligence, experience and capacity for municipal business affairs.

Good sense is the basis of the order issued by the Boston educational authorities requiring that the sedate little maids of the high schools shall learn to swim. Of course, it is argued by the objectors that swimming has no part in the mental development of high school girls, but the educational authorities contend that proficiency and practice in swimming will eradicate weak backs and curved spines. Swimming is not only a most enjoyable sport, but a knowledge of the art is extremely valuable. It is an exercise which could be adopted here and elsewhere with profit as part of the system of discipline in the public schools.—Washington Times.

Successful playwriting certainly pays. The latest English estimate of Barrie's earnings from "The Little Minister" is $450,000. The guess at the value of the total Barrie fortune is $2,500,000. But there are not many writers who can turn out both a "Peter Pan" and a "Little Minister," not to mention "The Professor's Love Story," "The Admirable Crichton" and others now almost forgotten, but which paid handsome royalties.

WILL INTRODUCE BILL TO REPEAL BRONSON LAW

BY CHAS. W. RIFE

COLUMBUS, Dec. 7—Representative Scott, of Harrison county, has prepared a number of important bills that will be introduced early in the next session of the legislature, among them being one for the repeal of the Bronson primary law, one for the repeal of the Wertz convict labor law and another for the sale of the canal systems of Ohio.

The last is probably the most important of the three measures, and will meet with considerable opposition. The plan of Mr. Scott is to offer the canals of the state for sale to the highest bider, and he will have a volume of figures to prove that they are not a paying investment for the state. Efforts of this kind have been made before, but they have always fell flat when the vote was taken.

The repeal of the Bronson primary laws will be fought bitterly by the representatives from the rural counties of the state, while the men who are sent to the legislature from the cities will support the measure at every turn.

The Wertz law provides that no public contract work shall be done by the prisoners of the state penal institutions, or that prison goods shall be manufactured for sale at retail. This law only went into effect a few month ago, and hundreds of prisoners in the state prison have been thrown out of work as a result of it.

There will be support to this measure, but hardly enough to pass it as Governor Harmon is known to be strongly in favor of the law as it passed.

Every representative and senator so far heard from will have a number of bills to introduce, and the session will be one of the most important ever held in the state.

Pollitics, politics, everywhere you turn, and every man seems to have his candidate for the place. The fight for the governorship is probably the most interesting of the contests that are being waged.

There is no question but what Governor Harmon will be a candidate for a second term, and before he completes that, (if his plans do not miscarry) he hopes to be nominated for president of the United States on the Democratic ticket. He is working for it, and has been assured liberal support all along the line.

On the Republican side there are only two avowed candidates, and one of them, Warren G. Harding, of Marion, one of the best known editors in the state, is understood to be in waiting for the seat in the U. S. senate now occupied by Charles Dick

The other candidate is Carmi Thompson, secretary of state, and his campaign has progressed to such a stage, that he is being consulted on important questions by politicians and voters from all over the state.

Col. Thompson expects to remain in the fight until it is over. and in this he has the united support of the Republicans of Southern Ohio in his canvas. The fact is pointed out that he has led the Republican ticket two times in succession when the head of the ticket was won by the Democrats

Federal Judge Taylor was mentioned for the nomination also, but the next day after the Washington story was sent out, Judge Taylor, came out with a card and said he did not want the place, and would not have it under any consideration.

The fight today is between Harding and Thompson, with the chances of a compromise that will bring harmony to the ranks of the Republican voters of the state.

Of course it is a long time until the convention is held and there may be many more that are counting in the darkness with the nomination, who will be heard from later on.

But with the Democratic nominee already selected, the Republicans are anxious to get together and decide upon a man whom they think can defeat him.

The political pot has begun to boil and there is every indication that it will continue to boil, until the turbulent waters are stilled by the pouring of oil, and the nominee that suits all classes is named and has begun to make his fight for the votes that will enable him to land in the chief executive chair of the Buckeye state.

ASTONISHING GOOD IS BEING DONE ALL OVER THE STATE

The great discovery that is creating so much talk at this point seems to be taking the whole state by storm as reports are coming in from every direction of some astonishing good it is doing for some one who long since gave up hope of ever seeing another well day.

Hardly a day passes without some one calling at the drug store to tell of the wonderful good Root Juice is doing The remedy has cured so many people at this point within the past few months that it has become the common talk in this locality. Much of the testimony of those whom the medicine has cured is similar to that of Mr Charles Cuningham, who said: "I wish to thank the Root Juice people for the wonderful good I have received from the use of Root Juice I had a bad sore stomach trouble, a long-time. At times any solid food would sour in my stomach and cause me to bloat so that I was in so much misery I would have to send for the doctor and have him give me something to make me throw up before I could get relief. I have used hardly four bottles of the Juice and can now eat anything without the slightest inconvenience. My digestion seems to be perfect I have also regained my flesh and strength." So many names of people who were cured of a chronic trouble of the stomach, liver or kidneys, rheumatism or nervous weakness, have been published in this paper, that but few if any, doubt the great value of the remedy. Consequently, people continue to go from all parts of the city to the C E. Anderson drug store for some of the great health restoring medicine, and many are coming from the country for miles around.
